Sales • Installation • Service

Locally owned and operated, we place a strong emphasis on customer service. We're small enough to care, yet big enough to get the job done.

Our sales staff has many years of combined experience and can consult with our customers to help determine the most cost-effective and efficient product and service needs. All have undergone Motorola product training, and have earned certification as Radio Communication Representatives - some have achieved Professional certification.

Our highly skilled technical staff is trained in all areas of the products and services we offer, providing state-of-the-industry testing and repair facilities and equipment. Our personnel participate in ongoing training, both in-house and at vendor locations, and many are vendor certified. The company is a Certified Service Center and member of the Electronics Technicians Association; our technicians are Certified Electronics Technicians.

We provide technical service and maintenance of the products we sell, and have several service agreements with customers, including privately owned and public service agencies.
